WASHINGTON TERRITORY

Dave Baily's Impression ot the Great Northwest

[Euroka Sentinel, April 1st] We have had quite a prolonged inter-sw with our fellow townsman Day. E. Baily, since his return a few days ago from Oregon and the Puget Sound He is enthusiastic in his opinions as to the coming prosperity of the great Northwest, and more particuof Washington territory and the country immediately along the Sound.

He represents the lumber trade as im-mease, the coal trade of only a little less magnitude, the fishing interest as of great importance and a rapidly growing industry, and beside all this, and as the sheet auchor of all prosperity, the agricultural resources alone are capable of making a big country.

The climate on the coast is almost as By his death the Department loses a mild as that of San Fiancisco, owing to chief of eminent ability, whose superior the Japanese Ocean currents. The soil is generally fertile, well adapted for fruits, and the hop growers as though indigenous to the soil. The past season the men engaged in the hop culture made small fortunes off of a few acres of ground, owing to the price of hops running up to one dollar and over per pound, caused by a failure of Eastern and English crops. Au exceptional whose private life was spotless, and year, it is true, but even in ordinary years the culture of hops is a large and increasing business. The bound, he increasing business. says, is one of the most beautiful sheets of water he ever saw, extending as it does from Olympia, the Capital of the Territory, to the Straits of Fuca, a distance of nearly one hundred miles Its shores are covered with the finest growth of timber in the world, while in depth of water it is capable of accommodating the largest ships that float, and its waters abound with fish of the finest the Department will be closed on the quality From the vast forests, stretch-28th inst, the day appointed for the funcial As a further mark of respect this berehvordered that the Danaitment of the being cut and shiped to all parts of where down the steep mountain and are being cut and shiped to all parts of where down the steep mountain and are

It is an in-Sound a large proportion of the Oriental describable joy to he upon the bank of trade of China and Japin must come as soon as the Northern Pacific Railroad is completed, and by that route New York and the Atlantic Coast are 1,300 miles nearer those countries than by way of San Francisco, and that indeed it must be in a very short time one of the great highways for the world's trade The Northern Pacific Railroad will be completed some time this Summer and there will begin an exodus to that country which will nearly rival that of Cali-

A number of Eurokans are settled there already, among whom are W. R. Forrest, Hugh Stowell, Wm. Shipley, Wm. Burns and sthore and from what Bay Hawley of would result from the lake being others, and, from what Ben Hawley of company have also vast quantities of the Senttle Daily Chronicle says we opine, they are at least friendly with one Ben Hawley, in noticing the arrival of our friend Baily, says in the

In the light of the present spinitualstic craze which is now prevailing in managers will not be able to attend the festations It says

When we see chairs skip about, hear music boxes play without contact, witness the writing of untouched state pencils, and see phosphorized tamborines float and clash in the air above the heads of an audience, we may, and even most, admit the operation of some unclassified agency, but if we have been trained to the study of causes and offects, and in the conscientions weighing of evidence, we shall at once jamp to the conclusion that our departed friends have taken to there modes of entertainment Sifted these furniture and slate pencil tests have one basis, a temporary interruption gravitation These new phenomena seem to say that nerve power or will power, which is but a concentrated cerebral action, can do some of the things science has ceased to believe that gravitation rides unhorsed through space, so we must infer that this psychological or This medium may be the other of physical science At any rate it seems likely that the metallic magnet, which also overcomes gravitation, communicates its power through space the same way We know by the experiment that common air is not the vehicle of heat, electricity or magnetism, all three travel just as easily in a vacuum But that is, what scientists have called a vacuum has the power of transferring

LUNDY AND THE LAKE

A Beautiful Lake in the Summit of the Sierras.

A writer ont he Bodie Fiee Press has been visiting this beautiful spot, which he describes as follows.

Lundy, now the only town in Homer District, is beautifully situated in one of the wildest canyons of the Sierra Nevada, and at present it has perhaps 200 inhabitants, which number during the Summer will be trebled. The town lies at an altitude of 8,500 feet, and above it upon three sides walls of mountains tower 3,000 feet-grand, massive, storm-scarred hills, fretted with frowning cliffs and gloomy goiges, nursing upon their breasts pines and cedais that have successfully defied the wrath of storms and time, and stand yet defaced and disfigured, looking down the mountain sides like grim sentries upon the quiet little hamlet, diminished to a pigmy village, in the distance The scenery in this canyon, as in fact in the entire surrounding country, is the summit of picturesque magnificence. Everywhere the eye is met with boulders piled-apparently on a pivot-on boulders and chiffs standing upon chiffs, until lost in their aerial flight, and everywhere vegetation to soften the presence of their awful granduer

At the eastern end of the flat upon which Lundy is located lies Lake Lundy, a beautiful sheet of water a mile long by half a mile wide. This little gem furnishes the Lundyites a boating park during the summer months and a skat-ing pond during the winter, and an abundance of delicious trout the year round Above the lake Mill Creek Canyon extends two miles and terminates against an almost perpendicular wall of cliffs, down which splendid cascades leap, and at whose base a deflows through a beautiful grove of trees where down the steep mountain sides little streams rush, and everywhere delicious springs abound. It is an inone of these wandering rills and drink a draught fresh from the breast of the mountain. For, added to the sweetness of its drink, it bears music on its voyage, and the aroma from the green that decks its banks is soothing to the stranger, and must be a somee of andless pleasure to the native

A USELESS RESERVATION

The Hawthorne Bulletin, under the above heading, editorially says The Walker Lake Indian Reservation should be shandoned It covers a large section valuable for caineral, tunber and agriculture, and is in reality of no belefit to the few hundreds who live on or near it The Pyramid Reservation is amply large enough for all the Piutes in Nevada, and the abandonment of this one at Walker Lake would not only open a large field to the prospector and lancher, but would also permit the whites to make use of the hah, of which there is such an abundant supply The would result from the lake being thrown open to the use of the white people, would add large amounts to the levenues of the State and county and give remunerative employment to many pea-As at present this reservation is in fact only a supplement to the one at Pyrami i, and, without being or any is d use to the Indians, is a source of extra expense to the Granment, it would be better for all that it should be almadoued and that the State should be permi'ted to derive some banefit from the great sources of wealth and industry within its boundaries

Railroad Meeting Postponed

The Eureka Leader, of last Friday, publishes the subjoined

The stockholders of the Eureka & Colorado River Railroad Company and of the Nevada Midland Railroad Company are in receipt of letters from Su-How the so-Called Spiritual Manistating that, owing to the piess of business consequent upon the opening of the 10 id from Denver to Salt Lake City by April 1 the Listein stockholders and many Nevada towns, the following from the Boston Transcript may tend to solve some of those mysterious manicharacter is expected to come up, and the Eastern gentlemen desire, and me entitled to be represented. #### THE PASSION PLAY.

Senator Jones is not favorably impressed with the Passion Play. A Herald reporter saw him present at a rehearsal of it one night last week, and interviewed him with the following re-

"What have you to say about it?"

asked the reporter. "Well there has been a great deal of misr-presentation of the play in San Francisco. It was not objected to by the better class of people. It was only the bigotedly strictly fault-finding Christians who were against it. They would accept anything good or bad. I am here to night to see what this play is. I don't understend how it can be interesting without being sacriligeous, and if it be made proper it will be stupid. I am confident that it will never shock any one who stays away. "What do you think of the two or three acts you have seen?"

"Well the play is here and I am here.
I was let in for nothing. I don't feel that I and Morse are more thrn even. I don't think it will run on its sacrilegious merits. If it is an interesting play it will succeed, if dull, it won't run. don't think it will last forever by the great mistake by having amateurs. In present appearance. They make San Francisco the best actors were employed. If you have a man to represent the Savior he must give an exalted type of the character instead of this Aminadap Sleek fellow, who, out in the mines we would call "a forty-parson mines we would call "a forty-parson power thief," The Herod is good, but you can't run the Passion Play on

A Resume of Social Events. The month just ended has been unlike generally uncomfortable, barren of entortainment and amusement. The sunlife and brightness in the social line. The La Gaite parties of the 21st and 29th were decidedly informal and jolly. A good proportion of the members were wives, sisters, cousins, etc., accompanied them in force. These evenings are not considered "dress" affairs, and club propose giving an invitation party on the fifth of this month, which will no doubt be a social success. The party of last Friday evening, given under the auspices of the Junior Hose Co., was patronized by the young folks, and when they combine, how could there be any other result than a "good time." Whew! how they did hop. It was easy to believe them followers of the old maximum, "go it while you're young." The dancing schools have been in full of sounds and words ending with the son yesterday. The Coombs murder formula sh-sh-sh-boom!-Ah! By the way, Mary and her pet are going to Squator Henderson, of Lincoln, was take a short vacation. A new vocal lancers called Cap—— something is the advancing rival. There has been a run of good theatrical entertainments. The Harrison troupe performed before a very small house (owing to weather, short notice, etc.), but did not tail to please everyone who was present. There was a total lack of plot in "Photos," which was atoned for by numerous specialties and heaps of fun. Alice H. was good in all her rollicking characters, and although not beautiful, was positively bewitching in a Kate Grenaway costume of brocaded scarlet, and pale pink satin. Louis was unsurpassed in his grotesque character porcannot answer, enough," never failed to bring down the applause. Minnie
